positions held overnight or even over the weekend, the Company is entitled, at its own discretion, to increase the amount of the minimum margin and the margin parameters, even if the trading system continues to display a lower minimum margin and margin parameters. - 36.10 The Parties agree that the Company will have the right to withdraw Margin from the Client Account and deposit it in its account and it will be considered as security for the trading activity of the Client. In this case the Margin will not be considered as Client money and so the Company may use the Margin for its own account. The Margin will be considered as a debt due by the Company due to the Client and will be returned back to the Client.
- 36.11 In the event of a negative balance in a retail Client account, the Company will not file a claim against the Client for that amount, except in cases where the Client has used illicit methods to create it or Client is classified as a professional or eligible counterparty.

40. Client money and client account

40.1 Unless otherwise agreed with the Client¹ in writing and to the extent allowed under Applicable Regulations, the Company will deal with any funds that it holds on the Client Account in accordance with the Applicable Regulations. This means that such Client money will be segregated from the Company's own money and cannot be used in the course of its business. Upon receipt of the Client money, the Company will promptly place such money into one or more Segregated Client Account(s).

40.2 The Company shall not account to the Client for profits or interest earned on Client money (other than profit gained through trading Transactions from his Client Account(s) under this Agreement) and the Client waives all right to interest.

40.3 The Company may deposit Client money in overnight deposits and will be allowed to keep any interest.

40.4 The Company may hold Client money and the money of other Clients in the same bank account (omnibus account).

40.5 The Company may deposit Client money with a third party who may have a security interest, lien or right of set-off in relation to that money.

40.6 Client money may be held on the Client's behalf with an intermediate broker, a bank, a market, a settlement agent, a clearing house or OTC counterparty located within or outside Cyprus or the EEA. The legal and regulatory regime applying to any such person outside Cyprus or the EEA will be different from that of Cyprus and in the event of the insolvency or any other equivalent failure of that person, the Client's money may be treated differently from the treatment which would apply if the money was held in a Segregated Account in Cyprus. The Company will not be liable for the solvency, acts or omissions of any third party referred to in this paragraph.

- 40.7 The third party to whom the Company will pass money may hold it in an omnibus account and it may not be possible to separate it from the Client's money, or the third party's money. In the event of the insolvency or any other analogous proceedings in relation to that third party, the Company may only have an unsecured claim against the third party on behalf of the Client, and the Client will be exposed to the risk that the money received by the Company from the third party is insufficient to satisfy the claims of the Client with claims in respect of the relevant account. The Company does not accept any liability or responsibility for any resulting losses.
- 40.8 The Company is a member of the Investors Compensation Fund (ICF). So, depending on his classification, the Client may be entitled to compensation from the ICF in the event that the Company is unable to meet its obligations as explained in the document with the title "Investors Compensation Fund".

Where the Company is obliged to enter into agreements that create such security interests, liens or rights of set-off, it shall disclose that information to the Client indicating the risks associated with those arrangements.
- 41.2 Where security interests, liens or rights of set-off are granted by the Company over Client financial instruments or funds, or where the Company has been informed that they are granted, these shall be recorded in client contracts and the Company's own accounts to make the ownership status of lien assets clear, such as in the event of insolvency.

43.3 The Client may withdraw funds by logging into his members area where he should be able to make an internal transfer request from his trading account(s) to his landing account(s), by entering the amount he wishes to withdraw.
